

Event: Spring Conference Toastmasters District 46

Date: Saturday, May 10, 2025

Location: Monroe College, New Rochelle, NY

Theme: Ignite Engagement, Achieve Excellence

. . . . .

Presenter: Seth B. Greenwald, DTM, PMP

Presentation Details

Duration: 60 Minutes

Title: Think in Sync with AI for Next Level Leadership

Description:

The promise of AI as the beacon for a brighter future is everywhere. AI's ability to offer real time project insights is impressive. We must harness the synergy between AI and human intelligence to take advantage of this new paradigm. However, to effectively collaborate with our new non-human team member, we need to make a significant mindset shift. This is the challenge we all face. Are you ready to pivot for a smarter future?

Takeaways:

During my presentation, attendees will learn:

1. to identify the right mindset to engage GenAI as a strategic thinking partner
2. how to integrate GenAI into team meetings
3. the three methods to communicating with GenAI

Bio:

Seth B. Greenwald, PMP, MID, is a best-selling author, keynote speaker and course creator for project managers, engineering leaders and other technical professionals. After earning his Mechanical Engineering degree from The Cooper Union, Seth served as senior project manager for some of the largest engineering and construction firms in the country. He currently manages multiple civil works mega projects for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

As the owner of Creatively Speaking Inc., Seth has empowered countless individuals to advance their careers through effective communication. His public speaking programs 'Page to Stage' and 'Find Your Flow' have garnered widespread acclaim for their transformative impact on his student's ability to craft highly memorable messages through the power of storytelling. Seth latest book, "Answering the Call of Your Creative Warrior" is the inspiring story of how he discovered his inner source of creative confidence. His new online course 'Strategic Storytelling for Technical Professionals' was recently voted a top 10 course on the MYCPE learning platform.

Seth is the founder and charter member of PMI-NYC Toastmasters and an active member of the Westchester Advanced Toastmasters (WAT) club. He earned his first DTM in 2016 and working diligently towards his second one. In his spare time, Seth enjoys experiencing the world to collect fun stories to share with his local audiences.